

TokensDirect Has Golf Tokens for FECs

TokensDirect offers golf-themed tokens both in standard designs or customized with company name, logo and other marketing messages to provide promotional opportunities. In addition to promotion of the venue itself, one side of the token can be used for a partner sponsorship to help defray the cost of the tokens.

Tokens can be redeemed for a round of mini-golf, new golf video games, to promote new courses and leagues, birthday parties and a host of other uses. TokensDirect offers hundreds of standard token designs, which can easily be customized for particular locations. When used in vending devices (like range ball dispensers), they provide self-serve convenience to customers, and added profit to operators. Unlike coin-vend machines, which can be a target for cheats and thieves, tokens are a theft deterrent, says the supplier.

TokensDirect, a division of Osborne Coinage Co., offers a full line of tokens through their online store with factory direct pricing, low minimum order quantities and fast turnaround time on all orders. Custom tokens can be shipped within 10 business days. To see products and get pricing, visit www.tokensdirect.com.
