

Positive Reinforcement Tokens Are Available from Tokens Direct

Whether on a personal or professional level, everyone wants to be praised for a job well done. Positive reinforcement tokens from Tokens Direct are a unique way to give a compliment that will be remembered for months to come, or whenever the coin is seen. The tokens are a tangible reminder of well-earned praise and are guaranteed to brighten the recipient's day.

There are multiple studies showing that people value praise more than or as much as a monetary reward. And to motivate children, nothing beats something bright and shiny that looks like money, according to Tokens Direct. Additionally, employers use tokens to motivate employees, dentists and orthodontists use them to reward patients for good check-ups and teachers use tokens to positively reinforce good behavior at school.
